Condom Training Models (W19101) — Economical Group Training Set, 20-Pack

The Condom Training Models (Item No. 1005115 [W19101], [confirm weight]) is an economical training set consisting of 20 Styrofoam penis models, purpose-built for practicing correct condom use even in large groups — ideal for classroom-scale sex education sessions rather than one-on-one instruction.

Hands-free practice for better technique. The reusable models can be fixed to the desktop with adhesive tape, freeing both hands for rolling the condom into position — letting students focus entirely on technique rather than also having to hold the model steady.

Built for repeated classroom use. As a reusable set, this is a practical, budget-friendly option for institutions running condom-use training across multiple sessions or large student groups, rather than single-use disposable models.

Please note: this set is delivered without condoms — order training condoms separately to complete your classroom kit.

Great for sex education in schools, colleges, and community health programs where group-based, hands-on instruction is needed.
