See For Yourself: Pap Tests Easel Display (W43132) — Cervix Model Series for Patient Education

The See For Yourself: Pap Tests Easel Display (Item No. 1018296 [W43132], 0.451 kg) by WRS Group combines easy-to-understand text with six handpainted, realistic cervix models, making teaching the importance of regular Pap tests straightforward and visually clear.

Six cervix models for a complete visual story. Rather than relying on a single static image, the display's six handpainted models let patients see the range of cervical presentations Pap testing is designed to catch — making the purpose and value of regular screening tangible rather than abstract.

Purpose-built for one-on-one patient conversations. This 3D display is specifically designed for one-on-one presentations, making it a practical tool for clinicians explaining Pap test importance directly to individual patients during counseling or exam visits.

Compact and protected for easy use. At 9" × 12", the easel display is compact enough for desk or exam room use, and comes with a protective felt cover to keep the models safe between sessions.
