Product Description

Why Choose the Carry Bag for P61 / 1017891 for Your Simulation Lab in India?

The Carry Bag for P61 / 1017891 (Item No. 1018079) by 3B Scientific, Germany is a 0.693 kg, 65 × 43 × 21 cm purpose-built carry bag for the P61 Epidural & Spinal Injection Trainer — protecting the simulator and its components during transport between training venues, storage rooms, and training sessions. For anaesthesiology training programmes, obstetric anaesthesia courses, and clinical skills labs in India that transport the P61 simulator regularly, a dedicated carry bag is the only storage solution that protects the simulator's soft-resin skin and internal tissue layers from compression, impact, and contamination during handling and vehicle transport.

The 65 × 43 × 21 cm internal volume is sized specifically for the P61 simulator and its included accessories, ensuring a secure, organised fit rather than improvised packaging that risks damaging the simulator's delicate tissue-simulating materials. For training programmes that run the P61 as part of the 3B Scientific Anesthesiology Lab Kit (8000874/3011612), this bag provides dedicated storage for the procedural simulator component while the anatomical models (A74 Lumbar Spinal Column, L20 Pregnancy Pelvis) are stored separately, keeping the complete kit organised between sessions.
