Product Description

for W4410.
Nice connection here worth flagging — a positive one, useful for cross-linking rather than a fix. This is the skin-and-veins replacement kit "for W44101," and the image filename on the Paediatric Head page we did earlier in this session was literally `W44101_01_1200_1200_Paediatric-Head.jpg` — so this is the replacement kit for that exact same product (Item No. LF00999U). Worth adding a direct cross-link between the two pages in the copy (and in your internal linking map) since a buyer maintaining a Paediatric Head trainer would naturally need this part.

Otherwise clean data — Item No., weight, and brand (Nasco Healthcare) all present and consistent, no contradictions.

Skin and Veins — Replacement Kit for Paediatric Head (W44101)

The Skin and Veins replacement kit (Item No. LF01003U, 0.179 kg) by Nasco Healthcare, USA is the designated replacement kit for the Paediatric Head trainer (W44101 / Item No. LF00999U), used for temporal and jugular vein access training on infant patients.

Why this matters for a busy pediatric skills lab: the Paediatric Head sees repeated needle insertion at the temporal and jugular sites across a term's worth of student practice. As the skin and underlying vein structure wear from that repeated contact, tactile realism during palpation and puncture degrades. This replacement kit restores both the skin surface and the vein structure together, giving a fuller restoration than replacing skin alone.
