Product Description

For use with Life/form® Spinal Injection Simulator (LF01036). This is the piece of skin in which the injections are made.

Clean and consistent — Item No., weight, brand, and compatibility statement are all present with no contradictions. Small, clear description that's accurate as far as it goes.

Skin Flap — Replacement Injection Surface for Spinal Injection Simulator

The Skin Flap (Item No. LF00874U, 0.2 kg) by Nasco Healthcare, USA is the replacement injection surface for the Life/form® Spinal Injection Simulator (Item No. LF01036). It's the specific piece of skin where needle insertions are made during spinal injection practice, positioned over the simulator's underlying spinal landmark structure.

Why this matters for a busy skills lab: spinal injection technique — used for lumbar puncture, epidural, and spinal anesthesia training — requires repeated needle insertion at precise landmark locations. As the skin flap absorbs that repeated puncture, tactile realism (resistance through the layers, the "pop" as the needle enters the correct space) degrades even though the simulator's internal spinal structure remains functional. Replacing just the skin flap restores that realism without needing to replace the full simulator.
