Why Choose the I.V. Lower Arm with Hand for Your Nursing Skills Lab in India?

The I.V. Lower Arm with Hand (Item No. 150-1374U, 1.35 kg, Make: Nasco Healthcare, USA) is an economical option for institutions building out IV injection training capability without the premium price tag of advanced full-arm simulators. Made of durable material designed for repeated use, it's a practical choice for labs training larger cohorts or budgeting carefully across multiple stations.

Palpable veins with lifelike roll-over give students realistic tactile feedback during palpation, and the arm is suitable for both blood sampling and fluid injection practice. Artificial blood is supplied.

Why Buy from SEM Trainers?
