Why Choose the PRESTAN Female Accessory™ Medium Skin 4-Pack for Your Simulation Lab in India?

The PRESTAN Female Accessory™ Medium Skin, 4-Pack (Item No. PP-FA-4-MS, patent-pending) by Prestan Products, USA is a set of four medium skin tone female chest accessories that securely attach to PRESTAN Professional Adult, Series 2000, and Ultralite Manikins — converting a standard manikin into a female-presenting CPR training patient. Designed to address a documented clinical training gap: research shows that bystanders are significantly less likely to perform CPR on female patients than male patients, with hesitation linked to physical differences in chest presentation and cultural barriers to touching a woman's chest in an emergency. Training on a female-presenting manikin gives instructors a structured opportunity to identify and correct this hesitation before it costs a life in a real emergency. A downloadable user manual is available on the product page.

The 4-pack format provides one accessory per manikin in a standard 4-manikin training group, enabling all trainees to practise female-patient CPR simultaneously — the same format as PRESTAN's standard 4-pack manikin configurations. Compatible with both the PRESTAN Professional Adult/Series 2000 and the Ultralite series, so simulation labs already operating either manikin configuration can add this accessory without changing their manikin inventory. The secure fit ensures the accessory stays in place during active compression training. Available in medium and dark skin tones — the dark skin tone 4-pack is available separately. Pairs with the PRESTAN CPR Training Shirts for a complete realistic training experience. For BLS certification centres, nursing colleges, first-responder training programmes, and NMC-mandated simulation labs in India that want to include female patient CPR as a training scenario, this accessory provides the correct platform to make that training explicit and deliberate.
